The BC Tournament 12 (T12) Try-out Camp will take place at Delair Park in Abbotsford on Friday July 10 at 9:30AM. This camp will help determine the players that will represent the BC team at T12 in September (other provincial players living in BC may also attend). Each player will receive a T12 Try-out Camp shirt, along with a T12 New Era Cap.

Who is eligible?
Amateur baseball players born in Canada between the ages of 14-19 (as of September 1, 2015) can register to participate in the T12 Try-out Camp.

What is involved?
Position players will be evaluated based on; (1) Speed- 60 Yard Sprint, Throwing, Defense, and Hitting. Pitchers will be evaluated by throwing in the bullpen.

Each evaluation session will run approximately 5 hours.

Why should I attend?
The T12 Tryout Camp is your best option to be considered for a roster spot at T12. Although the Blue Jays Baseball Academy has made a conscience effort to attend many showcase events across Canada, we cannot accurately evaluate all interested players. The BC T12 Tryout Camp is your chance to make sure you are evaluated by Toronto Blue Jays and MLB personnel. In addition, the Blue Jays Baseball Academy will be reaching out to other MLB teams along with College Recruiters to come and scout this event.

Who will be evaluating the players?
Players will be evaluated by the Toronto Blue Jays Baseball Academy and the Toronto Blue Jays Scouting Department, in conjunction with the MLB Scouting Bureau. All final roster decisions will be determined by the Toronto Blue Jays Baseball Academy.

Should Bantam age players attend?
Yes, T12 is focused on getting the best player regardless of age.

Younger players attending the T12 Tryout can begin to position themselves for future tournaments. It is a great learning experience for players to be evaluated in this type of environment.

What is the Cost? When Can I register?
Players must register individually for this event. Online registration is now open and the fee for the T12 BC Tryout Camp is $100.00 per participant, plus applicable taxes and service charges.
Interested participants can register now at bluejays.com/baseballacademy

.